Dear Ms. Mendenhall:

This is to inform you that, due to a change in personal circumstances, I am no longer able to fulfill my duties as the Alexandria Association's representative on the Alexandria Archaeology Commission. Please accept my resignation as of the above date.

Sincerely,

John S. Roberts

Ms. Mendenhall,
Unfortunately I am resigning my appointment to the Alexandria Archaeological Commission (AAC) as of March 1, 2001. I am the representative from the Friends of Alexandria Archaeology (FOAA) and I have notified Pamela Cressey, Alexandria City Archaeologist and Tom Witte, FOAA President via.

I have found my tenure on the commission to be informative, educational and productive, unfortunately, I have recently enrolled in graduate school and in the process of creating time to pursue my degree have had to cut back on a number of activities, including the AAC.

Please let me know if you require more information, or a mailed letter to process my resignation. I look forward to becoming an active member of Alexandria's preservation community, once my degree is complete.

Sincerely,

Esther White

Mayor Kerry J. Donley and
Members, City Council
City of Alexandria, Virginia
City Hall

The Honorable Mayor Donley:

With fond regrets, I offer my resignation as a Member, Environmental Policy Commission. I have discussed my decision with the other Commission members.

For nearly two terms and because of your support, I have had the honor and pleasure of participating in the review of several environmental matters before the City of Alexandria. This unique opportunity has given me a greater awareness of the common interests shared by both citizens and city officials for an enjoyable community.

As you know, the environmental discipline is very complex because of numerous laws and regulations. And, it is more challenging by the interdisciplinary nature of problems to be solved—land use, environment, safety, and public health. So, in recommending solutions to you and other city decisionmakers, the Commission carefully examines these factors by integrating the professional talents among its members.

I just wanted you to know that I am very proud to have been a member of this group. They are truly dedicated and committed to offering their best counsel in preserving the environmental integrity of this city. They seek consensus and listen carefully to public concerns. You can feel confident in the wisdom of their recommendations. And, I want to thank Mr. William Skrabak and the folks in his office for professionally facilitating the Commission's efforts with other city offices. Their support is invaluable.

Thank you again. I will certainly stay in touch and serve the city in other capacities.

Very truly yours,

Re: Resignation

I am writing to inform you of my resignation from the Landlord-Tenant Relations Board and the Human Rights Commission necessitated by my recent appointment to the City's Planning Commission.

I have enjoyed tremendously the opportunity to serve the City as a member of these two important bodies. The experience has been a rewarding one for me. I certainly would be remiss if I did not mention as well what a pleasure it has been to work with City staff and my former colleagues on issues related to improving the quality of life for all Alexandrians, particularly the most vulnerable and disadvantaged.

I thank you again for the opportunity to serve and I look forward to continued years of service ahead.

Sincerely,

Ludwig P. Gaines, Esq.
