MEMORANDUM 12 9-25-01 15 9-11-01 13 9-25-01

DATE: SEPTEMBER 4, 2001

TO: THE HONORABLE MAYOR AND MEMBERS OF CITY COUNCIL

FROM: PHILIP SUNDERLAND, CITY MANAGER PS

SUBJECT: REPORT ON THE COMMUNITY PARTNERSHIP FUND FOR HUMAN SERVICES RECOMMENDED PRIORITIES FOR THE FY 2003 COMPETITIVE GRANT CYCLE

ISSUE: Receipt of the Report on the Community Partnership Fund for Human Services recommended priorities for the FY 2003 competitive grant cycle, which will be set for public hearing on September 15.

RECOMMENDATION: That City Council docket for public hearing on Saturday, September 15 the FY 2003 priorities for the Community Partnership Fund, including the community input on priorities received this summer (Attachments 2 through 5). Final action on the FY 2003 priorities will be at Council's Tuesday, September 25 legislative meeting.

Staff do not recommend any revisions to the priorities prior to the September 15 public hearing.

BACKGROUND: Each year in the context of the City's budget, City Council approves a set aside of local monies that are to be used for competitive grant awards to non-profit organizations that provide services to Alexandrians who are school-age or older[1]. This set aside of funding is referred to as the Community Partnership Fund for Human Services, and this competitive grant process has been in place since the FY 1999 budget cycle. In the fall of each year, City Council sets the priority service areas that it wishes to emphasize in the upcoming funding cycle.

The following is the time table of events for the Community Partnership Fund, subsequent to the City Manager's notification of the FY 2002 grant awards:

- Grant awards were announced during the first week of June, and the docket report including the summary of the FY 2002 grant awards was distributed to the non-profit community in advance of the June 12, 2001, City Council public hearing;

[1]City Council also approves an annual set aside to fund competitive grants for programs providing early childhood education and/or comprehensive services to at-risk children prenatally through five. This competitive grant pool is called the Children's Fund, and is administered by the Department of Human Services in conjunction with the Early Childhood Commission.

- This report on FY 2003 priorities is to be presented to City Council at the first legislative meeting in September. City Council is to hold a public hearing on the FY 2003 priorities on Saturday, September 15, then take final action to set the FY 2003 priorities at the second legislative meeting in September. This report on FY 2003 priorities includes input from the non-profit community on priority service areas that was received by staff during the summer months.

DISCUSSION: The priorities approved by City Council for the FY 2002 Community Partnership Fund for Human Services grant cycle established on October 24, 2000, are presented again as the priorities for FY 2003, and include the following:

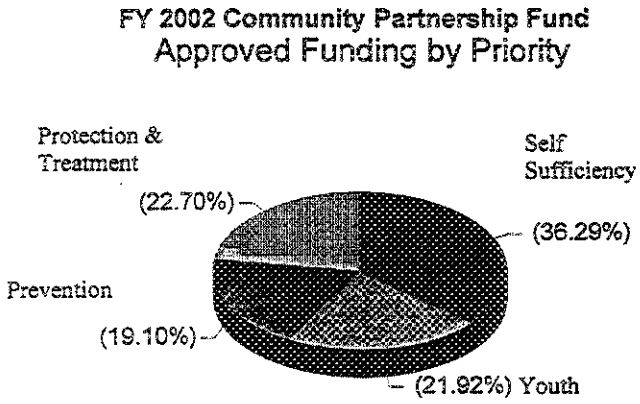
SOCIAL SERVICE PROGRAMS FOR YOUTH: • Activities and programs to provide positive educational, social and recreational alternatives for middle school youth and teens;

SELF SUFFICIENCY: • Programs to promote self-sufficiency and independence (including but not limited to, helping individuals access and maintain employment, housing and home ownership opportunities); • Programs to aid families and individuals in crisis; • Programs directed at assisting immigrant populations to receive proper documentation and determination of citizen status or naturalization status;

PREVENTION: • Community support programs that promote family and individual stability; • Community/neighborhood programs to prevent crime, violence, social isolation and neighborhood deterioration; and

PROTECTION AND TREATMENT: • Programs to prevent/reduce the impact of abuse and neglect; • Programs to provide affordable treatment for health, mental health and alcohol and drug problems; • Activities to reduce threats to the public health.

Last year's budget amount for the Community Partnership Fund totaled $875,500. The following graph shows the distribution of the grant awards among the priority areas that were in place for FY 2002.



The Community Partnership Fund monies are used to serve various populations, and the graph below shows the distribution by type of client served in FY 2002. The category labeled "General" reflects grants that serve all population groups, and includes the grant to the Northern Virginia Dental Clinic and the Crisis Link suicide/crisis hotline.

Process to Gain Community Input to the FY 2003 Priorities: Staff disseminated the June 12, 2001 docket item report (Attachment 1) on the FY 2002 Community Partnership Fund grant awards to the 32 nonprofit organizations that had originally requested a grant proposal package. Staff also requested that these organizations, along with the Alexandria Council of Non-Profits, the Alexandria United Way, the Affordable Housing Advisory Committee, the Commission on Aging, the Commission for Women, the Commission for Employment, the Commission for Persons with Disabilities, the Community Services Board, the Economic Opportunities Commission, the Social Services Advisory Board, and the Task Force on AIDS review the current priorities and provide input into establishing the priority service areas for the upcoming grant cycle.

In addition to requesting input on the priorities, the Office of Management and Budget also requested community comment on the following proposed schedule changes for the FY 2003 process: (1) The public hearing and final action on the FY 2003 proposed priorities would take place in September rather than October; (2) The Notice of Competitive Grant Opportunity would be distributed in September rather than November; (3) The pre-proposal conference would be held in October rather than December; and (4) Proposals would be due December 20 rather than mid-February. The purpose of the proposed schedule change is to be able to have a compilation of all the requests prior to the City Manager's decision on the total dollar amount of the Community Partnership Fund to include in his proposed budget to City Council. Previously, the Community Partnership Fund budget was set before proposals were received and compiled. This change in schedule is aimed at addressing concerns raised by City Council as to the process of determining what the total dollar amount budgeted in the Community Partnership Fund should be.

It should be noted that none of the non-profit agencies had any comment on the proposed date changes.

Staff received responses from the following organizations: (A) the Alexandria United Way, (B) the American Red Cross - Alexandria Chapter, (C) the Literacy Council of Northern Virginia, and (D) the Metropolitan Washington Ear (Attachments 2 through 5).

Response from Community Organizations on Priorities

The following is a summary of the comments from the four community organizations regarding priority areas, accompanied by staff comment where applicable.

A.) Alexandria United Way (Attachment 2): The Alexandria United Way urges the City to give special emphasis to programs such as health and recreation activities for low-income elderly residents that will allow them to remain as independent as possible.

The Alexandria United Way also would like to urge the City to incorporate into each of the priorities, a focus on making information and services more accessible to people who need them. According to the results of three studies conducted by the United Way (the 1999 Hispanic Needs Assessment, the Research for Success by 6 ® Proposed Strategy, and Living Paycheck to Paycheck: A Look at Alexandria's Working Poor), there was an identified lack of access as a barrier to the utilization of existing services. This lack of access includes lack of knowledge of services, location of services, and hours of operation.

Staff comment: Regarding the request to place special emphasis on programs and activities for low-income elderly residents, it should be noted that all priorities are designed to serve Alexandrians who are school-age or older. No one specific adult age group is preferred to the exclusion of any other age group in the priorities. However, several of the current Community Partnership Fund grants serve the City's senior population (see graph on previous page).

After the public hearing on the FY 2003 priorities on September 11, if City Council wishes to strengthen the emphasis on accessibility of services as a stated priority in the upcoming grant cycle, Council can revise the current priorities to indicate that notification of accessibility of services is encouraged as an effort to provide more comprehensive services to those in need.

B.) The American Red Cross - Alexandria Chapter (Attachment 3): The American Red Cross - Alexandria Chapter requests that the City include "Social Service Programs For Low-Income Seniors" as a specific priority. According to the Red Cross, they have become increasingly aware of the under-addressed needs of the low-income senior population and feel that City funds are not adequately allocated to these issues.

Staff comment: Again, all priorities are designed to serve Alexandrians who are school-age or older. No one specific adult age group is preferred to the exclusion of any other age group, and several of the current grants serve the City's senior population (see graph on previous page).

C.) The Literacy Council of Northern Virginia (Attachment 4): The Literacy Council of Northern Virginia assists adults in developing the reading, writing and English speaking skills that are fundamental to self-sufficiency. They have recommended that language be added to the Self-Sufficiency priority regarding the prioritization of programs that help new immigrants develop English language and literacy skills.

Staff comment: The Self Sufficiency category includes the priority "programs directed at assisting immigrant populations to receive proper documentation and determination of citizen status or naturalization status," which addresses the Literacy Council's concern mentioned above.

D.) The Metropolitan Washington Ear (Attachment 5): The Metropolitan Washington Ear operates a radio reading and Dial-in newspaper and magazine reading service for blind, low vision and print-disabled residents of the national capital area. The Metropolitan Washington Ear requests that the priority of self-sufficiency be maintained as their service heightens the self-esteem and independence of their clients, many of whom are Alexandria residents.

Staff comment: No change is recommended in the Self-sufficiency priority at this time.

FISCAL IMPACT: The FY 2002 Approved Budget for the Community Partnership Fund totaled $875,500. Non-profit organizations submitted program proposals totaling over $2.2 million during last year's competitive grant award cycle.

Funding amounts for the FY 2003 Community Partnership Fund will be included as part of the Proposed FY 2003 Budget, which will be presented to City Council in May 2002.

MEMORANDUM

DATE: JUNE 4, 2001

TO: THE HONORABLE MAYOR AND MEMBERS OF CITY COUNCIL

FROM: PHILIP SUNDERLAND, CITY MANAGER PS

SUBJECT: COMMUNITY PARTNERSHIP FUND FOR HUMAN SERVICES FY 2002 GRANT AWARDS

ISSUE: Community Partnership Fund for Human Services FY 2002 Grant Awards.

RECOMMENDATIONS: That City Council receive this report and thank the members of the citizen review panel for their assistance in the FY 2002 grant award process.

BACKGROUND: On October 24, 2000, City Council approved the following priorities for the FY 2002 Community Partnership Fund for Human Services competitive grant funding:

Social Service Programs for Youth - Activities and programs to provide positive educational, social and recreational alternatives for middle school youth and teens;

Self Sufficiency - Programs to promote self-sufficiency and independence (including, but not limited to, helping individuals access and maintain employment, housing and home ownership opportunities); Programs to aid families and individuals in crisis; Programs directed at assisting immigrant populations to receive proper documentation and determination of citizen status or naturalization status; Programs to promote independent living, equality of opportunity and economic self-sufficiency for persons with disabilities;

Prevention - Community support programs that promote family and individual stability; Community/neighborhood programs to prevent crime, violence, social isolation and neighborhood deterioration; and

Protection and Treatment - Programs to prevent/reduce the impact of abuse and neglect; Programs to provide affordable treatment for health, mental health and alcohol and drug problems; and Activities to reduce threats to the public health.

A summary chronology of the FY 2002 grant process is provided as Attachment 1. As noted in the chronology, all grant applicants are notified of the funding decisions at the beginning of June. The

On February 15, 2001, the deadline for proposal submissions, the Office of Management and Budget received 35 proposals requesting $2,267,738 in funding from the Community Partnership Fund.

DISCUSSION: The FY 2002 Approved Budget for the Community Partnership Fund totals $875,500 for competitive grants to non-profit organizations that provide a wide range of human services to Alexandrians of school age (over 5) and up. This level of funding represents a 3.0 percent increase over the FY 2001 Approved Budget for competitive grants for human service programs meeting these priority areas. Proposals for programs designed for children prenatal through age 5 are handled through the Alexandria Children's Fund competitive grant fund.

The goal of the competitive grant process is to have an objective, analytical review of the non-profit organizations' program proposals. Grant awards were determined by a highly qualified panel of four Alexandrians who are very knowledgeable in understanding our local human services needs. The citizen review panel for the FY 2002 grant awards was comprised of Mr. Lynwood Campbell, former member of the Alexandria School Board and Chair of the review panel; Ms. Shirley Tyler, former chair of the Alexandria School Board and former director of Grace Episcopal School; Ms. Patrice Linehan, Research Coordinator of the United Way's 1999 Needs Assessment of the Hispanic Community in Alexandria; and Mr. Darryl Francois, a parent representative on the City Council's Youth Policy Commission.

The FY 2002 review panel, with staff support from several departments that administer human services programs and the Office of Management and Budget, evaluated all of the proposals based on the criteria included in the Request for Grant Proposal. These criteria included general requirements, such as consistency with the Council-established Community Partnership Fund for Human Services priorities; non-duplication of existing City services; clearly identified assessment of need; clear and attainable program goals with reasonable and achievable strategies and objectives; demonstrated financial ability to deliver the proposed program or service; a reasonable budget request; and documentable outcome measures and program performance measures.

A total of 32 organizations submitted 35 program proposals. The funding requested, in the amount of $2,267,738, was $1,392,238 more than the $875,500 available. Therefore, decisions on the amount of funding for each proposal were based on the panel's consensus ratings of the proposals. Of the 35 program proposals received, 20 were funded and 15 were not funded.

The 20 program proposals funded are summarized in Table 1 on the following page and will be awarded funding for October 1, 2001 through September 30, 2002. The 15 programs not selected for funding are listed in Table 2.

Organizations may request a debriefing meeting with Office of Management and Budget staff if they wish to receive feedback on the FY 2002 grant proposals. However, there is not an appeal process for these competitive grants, which is consistent with State and federal grant applications.

E. BACKGROUND

The Community Partnership Fund for Human Services was established by the Alexandria City

Council on October 14, 1997. Under this process, the City Council annually holds a public hearing on human services priorities in the fall of each year. Following public comment on these priorities, City Council adopts broad human services priorities. During the City's annual budget process, the City Manager recommends an aggregate amount of funding available for the grant proposal process to address these priorities. Following City Council's adoption of the budget, awards to non-profit agencies are made by the City Manager on a competitive basis through this formal Request for Grant Proposal process. For FY 2002 funding, the City Manager will notify successful grant applicants in writing by the first week in June 2001, for the grant year beginning October 1, 2001 and ending September 30, 2002.

F. PROGRAM PRIORITIES

The following priorities for the Community Partnership Fund for Human Services were approved on October 24, 2000 by City Council for Fiscal Year 2002:

If an existing program, provide a history of the program, including how it was developed, who was or will be involved in delivery of services or in support of the proposal. For new programs, identify how the concept for the project was developed, who will be involved, and start-up efforts to begin the project.

Provide an overall program description, identifying the following:

- Program title;
- Statement of program need;
- Services to be provided;
- Population served - (e.g., age, income, gender, numbers of persons, special needs, family structure);

Dear Ms. Moore:

On behalf of the Alexandria United Way, thank you for the opportunity to comment on the City's priorities for the 2003 Community Partnership Fund for Human Services.

Access to Services

Three studies conducted by the United Way – the 1999 Hispanic Needs Assessment, the Research for Success by 6® Proposed Strategy, and Living from Paycheck to Paycheck: A Look at Alexandria's Working Poor – identified lack of access as a barrier to the utilization of existing services. This lack of access takes many forms including, but not limited to, lack of knowledge of services, location of services, and hours of operation. We recommend that the City incorporate in each of its priorities, a focus on making information and services more accessible to people who need them.

Programs for the Elderly

In recent months, the United Way has become increasingly concerned about the needs of the growing number of elderly in this community, particularly low-income residents. We strongly recommend that the City include in its priorities, programs for elderly that allow them to remain as independent as possible such as health and recreation activities.

Sincerely,

Dear Ms. Moore,

As manager of the Alexandria Red Cross Seniors' Programs, I strongly recommend that the City Council specifically include "Social Service Programs For Low-Income Seniors" as a specific FY 2003 Community Partnership Fund for Human Services priority area.

2001 AUG 13 A 8:42
OMB
ALEXANDRIA VIRGINIA

We appreciate the opportunity to provide input to the FY 2003 Community Partnership Priorities. As you probably know, the Alexandria Red Cross is intimately involved in all of the Community Partnership priority areas that were funded for FY 2002. However, there is one very important (and often forgotten) segment of our population that was not specifically included in your FY 2002 priorities that should be included in your FY 2003 priorities – Senior Citizens. This is a growing segment of Alexandria's population. Unfortunately, low-income seniors' issues are not being effectively addressed because City funds are not adequately allocated to those issues.

The Alexandria Red Cross devotes significant attention, manpower, and resources to a variety of low-income senior issues such as health and safety, social isolation, transportation, and other important quality of life concerns. We are partnering with a number of Alexandria organizations and businesses to address these issues. However, seniors' needs continue to grow more rapidly than the availability of current resources.

Consequently, by including "Social Service Programs For Low-Income Senior Citizens" as a specific priority area, additional funding and attention can be directed toward this important segment of Alexandria's population. The Alexandria Red Cross and other local non-profit organizations are ready, willing, and able to address even more of our low-income seniors' issues if additional funding were available through the FY 2003 Community Partnership program.

Respectfully,

Glenn W. White

Re: Community Partnership Fund for Human Services

Dear Ms. Moore,

The Alexandria Red Cross strongly recommends that the City Council specifically include "Social Service Programs For Low-Income Seniors" as a specific FY 2003 Community Partnership Fund for Human Services priority area.

Through our work with the city's low-income seniors, we have become increasingly aware of under-addressed needs. We have found seniors with no beds, limited resources for the purchase of basic necessities like toilet paper, and limited ability to utilize public transportation for grocery shopping and medical services.

Alexandria has become a place where seniors cannot continue to live post retirement, due to the high cost of living. We feel that seniors are best served if they can remain in their own communities. This is difficult for low-income seniors in Alexandria.

A review of the funding priorities by both the Community Partnership Fund for Human Services and the Alexandria United Way Community Services Fund indicates that more than twice as much funding is awarded for youth programs than for seniors. In FY 2002, $361,400 was awarded for youth programs while only $156,637 was awarded for senior programs. To me this indicates a priority for youth while the silent seniors are neglected. The senior population of Alexandria is growing, but low-income seniors' issues have not been made a priority. And they should be!

Thank you for the opportunity to provide input to the FY 2003 Community Partnership Priorities. We hope that the City of Alexandria will desire to be part of a Community Partnership for Older Adults and will provide a portion of the funding for a needs assessment and a planning process to deliver services to low-income senior citizens in Alexandria. To most effectively utilize any funds, an appropriate plan and strategy must be in place. The Alexandria Red Cross intends to be a full partner and we invite all public and private organizations working for the benefit of our seniors to participate in the solutions which we seek to provide long-term care to older adults in Alexandria.

Sincerely,

Julia L. Wright

Dear Ms. Moore,

Thank you for the opportunity to comment on the City of Alexandria's Community Partnership Priorities. We commend you for the funding process that Alexandria has developed over the last several years and appreciate your support of the Literacy Council's programs.

With regard to the partnership priorities, we ask that you consider expanding the section pertaining to services for immigrant populations under the Self Sufficient heading. We recommend that you add language that would also prioritize programs that help new immigrants develop English language and literacy skills. It has been our experience that the acquisition of these skills is essential for many individuals to become fully self sufficient and participating members of our community. It should be noted that these skills are also a necessary prerequisite to becoming a naturalized US citizen.

The demand for ESL services is substantial in Alexandria and adding such language to this section would recognize what most newcomers already know - that it is difficult to get ahead without knowing English.

Please let me know if you have any questions or would like to discuss this matter. Thank you for your consideration and support.

Sincerely,

Gregory Smith

Dear Ms. Moore:

This is in response to your memorandum of July 11 2001, inviting the Metropolitan Washington Ear's input regarding human service priority areas to be funded by the City of Alexandria for fiscal year 2003.

As you know, the Metropolitan Washington Ear continues to provide to thousands of blind and visually impaired residents of Virginia, Maryland and the District of Columbia, the only reading and information services of its kind in the area. We feel it is vital that we be able to continue to make these unique services available to them.

Our primary source of funding comes from the area jurisdictions like Alexandria. We receive funding from other sources — private foundations, corporations, associations and individuals — but funding from these sources cannot always be counted on. That is why we strongly urge the Alexandria City Council to continue to support The Ear, as it has done in the past.

Accompanying these comments come our thanks, again, for your continued support.

We would like to share with you copies of letters from some of our grateful listeners, or their families.

Sincerely,

Hi....This is Scottie (Isabel Ann) Dalsimer, the one who doesn't know her Email address. Thanks for giving me yours. I am a devoted POST and Christian Science Monitor listener and, although I hate to admit it, I am distressed when I don't get the National Enquirer on Saturday mornings. I prefer to think that my interests are eclectic rather than prurient. Anyway, I will look forward to getting news from you. Loved the lunch at the Kenwood Country Club, though sorry I didn't get to meet more of the readers, who have really become my morning friends. Have a great week. Scottie

Enclosed you will find Serial Number [redacted], PIN Number [redacted] radio.

I personally picked up the radio for my "father" who was declared legally blind. I was so excited to give him this "gift" because I knew he would just love it.

I picked it up on 12/22/00 and Dad went into the hospital that evening. To date he has not returned home and it does not look like he will. Because this is such a wonderful service provided to the impaired, I am returning this radio to you in the hopes that someone else can use it.

If we are fortunate enough to bring Dad home, I will again contact you so that we may try this again later.

This is truly a wonderful service that you provide and I have told numerous individuals about this opportunity. I have a friend who is paralyzed and I will contact the family to see if this is something Mrs. Brett would like.

Thank you again for the radio and a "hats off" to all your volunteers who read for the radio. It's organizations like this that make me proud to be living in Montgomery County.
