Dear Mayor and Members of City Council,

I regret to inform you that my tenure on the Parker-Gray Board of Architectural Review must come to an end. Due to employment demands, I cannot fulfill my obligations as a commissioner.

It has been a rewarding experience for the last five years. I wish to thank those who appointed me. I am grateful for the opportunity to help preserve the architectural integrity of the Parker-Gray historic district.

The Honorable Mayor Euille and City Council:

It is after much soul searching, and with great regret that I tender my resignation as a member of the Alexandria Commission on Persons with Disabilities (ACPD).

Unfortunately, after six months of service, it has become increasingly evident to me that while the Commission has as its core a lofty and genuine mission, current management and personality dynamics impede the group from realizing its full potential. Therefore, rather than expending my time and talents battling through an unenviable and undesirable situation, I prefer to move ahead to a new challenge. With that being said, please look forward to receiving and reviewing my application for service on another Alexandria Commission very shortly. I, like you all, believe in the people of our city. And I, like you, have every intention of continuing to give back to a community that serves me well as my home.

With regards,
Carl Robert Lee
