DATE: SEPTEMBER 10, 2009

TO: THE HONORABLE MAYOR AND MEMBERS OF CITY COUNCIL

FROM: JAMES K. HARTMANN, CITY MANAGER

SUBJECT: THE LANDLORD-TENANT RELATIONS BOARD RESOLUTION ON THE VOLUNTARY RENT GUIDELINES

ISSUE: City Council consideration of the Resolution from the Landlord-Tenant Relations Board regarding the Voluntary Rent Guidelines.

RECOMMENDATION: That City Council approve the attached Resolution (Attachment I) to maintain the City's Voluntary Rent Guidelines at not more than 5.5% where the tenant pays utilities and not more than 7.5% where the owner pays utilities, as recommended by the Landlord-Tenant Relations Board.

BACKGROUND: Since 1950, the Code of Virginia has prohibited localities from enacting rent control. However, for over 20 years, the City has encouraged landlords to limit rent increases in accordance with the City's Voluntary Rent Guidelines. The City's Voluntary Rent Guidelines are suggested maximum rent increases for existing tenants, but they provide no authority to the City to enforce the guidelines against landlords who fail to comply with them. Under current Virginia law, the City's rent guidelines must remain voluntary, as the City has no authority to mandate that rent increases be held to any recommended percentage.

The Landlord-Tenant Relations Board reviews the City’s Voluntary Rent Guidelines and makes annual recommendations to City Council regarding the adequacy of the Voluntary Rent Guidelines. In preparing its recommendations, the Board considers rent data, market forecasts and vacancy surveys by Delta Associates, a national real estate consulting firm. The Board also considers market rent and vacancy data prepared by the Office of Housing in its annual apartment survey, as well as data compiled by Real Estate Assessments. In reviewing these data, the Landlord-Tenant Relations Board attempts to set the guidelines at a level that will account for inflation and property owners’ increases in cost, without unduly burdening tenants.

DISCUSSION: The current guidelines are 5.5% if the tenant pays utilities, or 7.5% if the landlord pays utilities. Prior to 2000, very few of the City’s landlords with properties of 10 or more units had failed to comply with the Voluntary Rent Guidelines. However, noncompliance increased significantly around 2000, when the vacancy rate for rental properties in the City dropped below 1%, and again in 2005 when a significant number of rental units were converted to condominiums.

Current compliance is substantial, and staff estimate that nearly all landlords in the City are in compliance with current guidelines. Table A in Attachment II illustrates changes in the voluntary guidelines since 2000.

Apartment vacancy has increased over last year, but remains very low in Alexandria (5.2% as of January, 2009) and regionally in the Washington D.C. area rental market. Alexandria’s rental apartment market is less competitive than in some prior years, but local rental market conditions remain strong when compared to national trends. “U.S. Census Bureau News,” reported that the national vacancy rate for rental housing was 10.1 percent in the fourth quarter of 2008.

Available data also show steady increases in rents, with significant increases in the Old Town Submarket. City-wide average rents increased 4.7% from January 2008 to January 2009. Since 2000, average rents have increased 52.6% Citywide, an average of 5.8% per year, with the highest annual increase during this period from 2001 and 2002, when rents increased 13.3%.

In January of each year, the Office of Housing surveys all rental apartments in the City with ten or more units. Delta Associates also surveys properties and reports rent and vacancy data, but divides the City into three submarkets with a representative sample of complexes in each submarket. Submarkets established and surveyed by Delta Associates include Old Town Alexandria, Arlandria and West Alexandria. In addition, Delta Associates reports on two separate categories of properties, while the City data includes all types of properties. Delta’s definition of Class A properties includes large properties built after 1988 with luxury amenities, and B properties are older properties with fewer amenities. The Landlord-Tenant Relations Board focuses its analysis on Delta’s Class B properties, since over 80% of properties in Alexandria are in the Class B Apartment category. The Delta Associates’ data, shown in Table B in Attachment II, reflect fourth quarter, year end 2008 data.

The Landlord-Tenant Relations Board has noted that the guidelines must be reasonable and consistent with market conditions, or landlords are unlikely to comply. Noting that vacancy rates are declining and rents continue to increase, the Board does not recommend reducing the guidelines. With the exception of the Old Town submarket, rents are not increasing at rates above the guidelines, and current vacancy rates indicate competition in the rental market. Therefore, at its May 6, 2009, meeting, the Landlord-Tenant Relations Board voted unanimously to maintain the guidelines at 5.5% for properties with tenant paid utilities, 7.5% for properties with utilities included in rents.

1 Stabilized Vacancy as defined by Delta Associates is the rate of "available units" in stabilized properties. Once a property achieves 95% occupancy, it is considered "stabilized" and stays in the pool of stabilized properties even if it falls below 95% at a subsequent reporting date.

2 Effective Rents adjust for the value of concessions. The City's survey does not adjust for concessions.
