Obesity is the fastest-growing health problem for America's kids. It threatens to deprive millions of children of a healthy future, and deprive America of its greatest resource – its children.

Louie's Kids is tackling the problem of childhood obesity one child at a time, supporting camp scholarships and other programs for obese children from low-income families designed to help them lose weight and keep it off, and learn healthy habits for a lifetime.

You can help by visiting our web site to learn more about Louie's Kids, by making a financial contribution, or by referring a child who needs help to us. It costs thousands of dollars to rescue a child from a lifetime of health problems, but it's worth every penny to change a child's life for the better, isn't it?
